

We have an exceptional small show that would be great for your attendees!

TheLivingTreasures.com P.O. Box 96 Newport, Tn. 37822-0096

This show is self-contained in a semi-trailer, featuring non-venomous reptiles, extensively illustrated with graphics bringing reptilian history from its inception millions of years ago into the 21st century. All reptiles are secured behind safety glass windows, viewed as people walk on the ground beside the trailer. There is no access to the reptiles from the public's side, and a weather canopy is above the walkway.

Our show is an educational exhibit with overtones of a mini museum and a zoo. The 40' trailer is state-of-the-art climate controlled, staffed by experienced herpetologists ready to answer all queries. We are not designed to frighten anyone, and many times we have had skeptics tell us they have a new appreciation of reptiles.

Our non-venomous reptiles include several varieties of Boas, Anacondas, and Pythons, all ages, and sizes to over 20'. We have held Fla. Wildlife License many years, meeting some of the strictest care/housing requirements of any state. We have $1mil. Liability policy with a perfect no claim record (there simply isn't any danger in our exhibit!)

Most of our venues are larger fairs; we have done many state fairs - Mich., Oklahoma; TN; Fl; Al; GA; LA; etc.

We offer several options for your consideration and venue: 100% sponsorship which makes our exhibit completely free viewing to the public or, partial sponsorship, and we charge $1.00 admission fee. Or, without any sponsorship, and we charge admission fee.

Additionally, we can present an educational show, good clean entertainment, facts, questions & answers with learning being fun! There is a nominal cost for this show which can be sponsored. No fancy set or glitter & glitz... just good!

We are family owned & operated, no expensive booking agents or big advertisements or new - every- year vehicles... We pass these savings on to you! Ours is a most unique exhibit and we appreciate your time and interest.
